1 THE COURT: The other which, as far as you know,⁵
2 they still have?

3 MR. HAN: That's exactly right. The managers of
4 the salon have represented that there is an intent to sell
5 the second salon as well.

6 THE COURT: You want a restraining order?

7 MR. HAN: That's exactly right.

8 THE COURT: Do you have that restraining order
9 prepared?

10 MR. HAN: Yes, we do, your Honor. I have a copy
11 right here.

12 THE COURT: Have you given a copy to defendant?

13 MR. HAN: May I approach?

14 THE COURT: Please.

15 Have you given her a copy?

16 MR. HAN: Yes.

17 THE COURT: This is an Order to Show Cause.

18 MR. HAN: Yes, your Honor. There is a temporary
19 restraining order included in the Order to Show Cause.

20 THE COURT: When did you serve this?

21 MR. HAN: We served this Monday. We put it in 22 the mail and served it Monday evening so I assume it was
23 received Tuesday morning.

24 THE COURT: I can't counsel you how to practice
25 law but if I were seeking to restrain the sale of assets,

1 I wouldn't do it by mail. You have nothing to show they
2 received it.

3 MR. HAN: I'm sorry. We actually gave defense
4 counsel a copy of the Order to Show Cause on Monday when
5 we were in court.

6 THE COURT: This is not completely -- you don't
7 have dates in here. How is he supposed to know or they
8 supposed to know when this is returnable?

9 MR. HAN: We included it with a cover letter and 10 other documents.

11 THE COURT: There is nothing in this Order to 12 Show Cause about the restraining of the interests in the 13 business. No date in here as to when you are going to 14 have a hearing on this.

15 MR. HAN: I'm sorry. I couldn't quite hear you.

16 THE COURT: Look, when you serve an order, it's
17 like serving a motion, you don't tell them when you want
18 to argue the motion.

19 MR. HAN: Our understanding is that the Order to 20 Show Cause is an ex parte motion. We called the Court's 21 manager to ask if we could schedule a time on Monday and
22 we contacted defense counsel.

23 THE COURT: Is that the original Order to Show
24 Cause? Your adversary was here when you appeared so you
25 gave her notice. If this is a different Order to Show
